FORTY-SECOND YEAR No. 8

SHORTCUT HIGHWAY IS SUBJECT OF GENERAL HOLIDAY WEDNESDAY

Actual Beginning of Work on Project Forms Eventful Day
—Celebration Under Auspices of Bay St. Louis
Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club and City
And County Official Boards.

Thousands of people gathered in Bay St. Louis Wednesday morning from New Orleans and Gulf Coast points "in celebration and barbecue and commemorating actual beginning of work on the long-sought-for direct highway between New Orleans and the Gulf Coast," held under auspices of "the Mayor and Commission Council, the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club, the Board of Supervisors of Hancock county, Mississippi."

The day was ideal and the many who visited here enjoyed their day in Bay St. Louis and on the Gulf Coast.

More than 1000 members of the Choctaw club and their families, representatives of the Association of Commerce and the Motor League of Louisiana traveled hither by special train and automobiles and gathered on the grounds of St. Stanislaus College to listen to speeches and partake of barbecue sandwiches prepared.

The exercises began with the Bay St. Louis Municipal Band, led by George Passauer, and the New Orleans Police Band, led by Peck Higgins, paraded on the grounds, playing lively music. A blaze of music from the Choctaw band, led by William Sauri, greeted Captain Joseph Sommerer as he appeared at the head of the Police band, members of which were arrayed in new uniforms for the occasion.

The speakers were introduced by E. J. Gex, County Attorney, of Bay St. Louis, who mentioned that although it would probably be two years before the road would be ready for use, the important fact was that the work was at last actually started.

An address of welcome to the New Orleans delegation was delivered by Brother William of St. Stanislaus college.

Mayors of Gulf Coast cities introduced were Kennedy of Biloxi, G. E. Genuing of Long Beach, Joe Milner, Gulfport, Dr. Jas. H. Spence of Pass Christian, and Gabriel Y. Blaize, Bay St. Louis.

Welcomed to Bay St. Louis

E. J. Gex, master of ceremonies and representing the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, mounted the chapel balcony with other speakers and the crowd turned expectantly from the palm-decked refreshment stand and cheered. After a short explanation of what the short-cut would mean to New Orleans and the coast upon its completion, Mr. Gex introduced Lucien M. Gex, city attorney of Bay St. Louis, who made a talk of welcome to visitors. Brother William, president of St. Stanislaus college, next welcomed guests to the college grounds. Brother William stressed the close social and economic connection between New Orleans and the Gulf Coast and the advantage of their united progress by means of easy communication.

Adam, Sr., Sounds Keynote.

The keynote of the day was sounded by Emile Adam, Sr., president of the board of supervisors of Harrison county, who urged that the people of Mississippi exert their utmost efforts to reduce real estate taxes on Gulf coast property, thus making it possible for more persons to own holiday homes on the coast.

When the short-cut is finished it will be easy to come from New Orleans to the coast, but we want to make it so delightful that people can't get away when they come, said Mr. Adam. "There are hundreds of New Orleans families who would own summer cottages here, and hundreds from the North who would buy winter homes on the coast, if they weren't taxed out of existence. That's our job now. We've got the road started. Let's get taxes down before the road is finished."

Invited to New Orleans.

Mayor Walmley, after speaking of the close connection between the city and the coast, continued, "When the new highway is finished, we want you to come to New Orleans as readily as New Orleans has been coming to you. New Orleans knows the advantage of the coast, now we want to tell the coast the value of New Orleans. We're the same kind of people that you are, we have the same traditions and we believe in the same ideals. Now, more than ever, we have a chance to be friends for good. That's what this shortcut is going to mean to us both."

Mr. E. J. Gex, during his speaking, said in time New Orleans would be a suburb of Bay St. Louis.

L. & N. R. R. PICK-UP AND DELIVERY

Bay St. Louis Added and
Free Service to Begin Mar.
15—Freight Shipments

The Sea Coast Echo has been authorized by the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company to announce that beginning, Wednesday, March 15, that this company will add to their freight service a free pick-up and delivery.

This service will extend throughout the incorporated territory of the City of Bay St. Louis. There were several bidders for this contract. A Lader and Sons, local draymen, were the lowest and hence the successful bidders and will begin work on the date aforesaid.

All freight for shipment over the L. & N. will be called for and delivered at the local depot. All freight arriving here will be delivered to the home or place of business to whom consigned. This is quite an innovation—a radical departure—but will prove one of the most convenient forms of shipment goods and at no added cost.

The L. & N. is to be commended for this added service, and—at no extra cost.

Meeting of Women's Home Mission Society at
Mrs. C. C. McDonald's

The Woman's Home Missionary Society met with Mrs. C. C. McDonald on Tuesday, February 21, with Mrs. Witter and Mrs. Kimmel as joint hostesses.

The devotion was led by Mrs. Henry Osinach who in her usual sweet unassuming manner showed us the value of personal sacrifice.

The topic "Life At Scarrit" was most interestingly discussed by Mrs. C. M. Shipp. After the usual transaction of business connected with the society most delicious refreshments were served.

The meeting adjourned to meet in March with Mrs. W. L. Bourgeois.

MAKING IMPROVEMENTS AT TROPICAL TOURIST INN

Pass Christian, Feb. 20.—Improvements at the Tropical Tourist Inn on the Old Spanish Trail at Henderson Point, are rapidly nearing completion, making this one of the most modern tourist camps on the Mississippi Coast. The property, which was erected several years ago, was recently purchased by E. B. Teohup and J. E. Jackson, who have made considerable improvements, including the erection of a new wing to the building, which about doubles the capacity of tourist rooms.

In addition to a number of rooms for tourist accommodations, the building contains a restaurant, and filling station.

CAST OF "MAMMY MINSTRELS" GIVEN SUPPER MONDAY P. M.

Mesdames Blaize, Gordon,
Monti Stevenson and Green Hostesses to Gay Party

As a deserved compliment and in recognition to the cast presenting the "Mammy Minstrels" in Bay St. Louis on Thursday evening of last week, under auspices of St. Margaret's Daughters and for the benefit of its charity fund. Mrs. G. Y. Blaize, Mrs. C. A. Gordon, Mrs. Claud Monti, Mrs. George Stevenson and Mrs. John A. Green were joint hostesses with Mrs. (Mayor) G. Y. Blaize at the latter's residence in Hancock street, Monday night at a supper.

It is needless to say the occasion was one of much pleasure, every member of the cast, (and husbands) participating in the event.

Following the supper the party assembled in the spacious parlors of the Blaize home where each member repeated her special number in the recent performance. This supplied the program of the evening and no better one could have been evolved. It was generous and fitting on the joint hostesses and fitting on the part of members of the cast to repeat their all-funny and entertaining numbers.

Participating in the evening's pleasures were the following:

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. G. Y. Blaize, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Monti, Mr. and Mrs. Edw. C. Carriere, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Nix, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Osinach, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Kammer, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Dickson, Mr. and Mrs. James Sylvester, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. Lordwick, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Murtagh, Mr. and Mrs. T. Quintini, Mr. and Mrs. Backman, Mr. and Mrs. Aline Saurier, Mrs. Andy Becker, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Elliott and the ladies who individually gave the party at their own expense—and not from the benefit fund; Mesdames G. Y. Blaize, Mrs. C. A. Gordon, Mrs. Claud Monti, Mrs. George Stevenson, and Mrs. John A. Green.

It is certain there has not been given locally a more delightful affair, combining a supper and entertainment.

CONVICTED FOR FIRE SETTING

Cleveland Ladner Fined One
Hundred Dollars and 90-
Day County Jail Service

In Judge Fuente's Court, held in Kiln, of February 18, Cleveland Ladner plead guilty of setting fire to woodland not his own and was sentenced by the court to pay a fine of $100.00 and to serve 90 days in the county jail and to pay the costs of court.

The district forester informed the court that he believed there were extenuating circumstances connected with the case asked the court to extend as much leniency to the defendant as possible. The court thereupon suspended both fine and jail sentence on payment of costs of court.

This is the fourth conviction for woods burning, in as many weeks, that have been obtained by the Mississippi Forest Service in Judge Fuente's Court. The district forester states that it is not the wish of the Mississippi Forest Service or the Forestry Commission to secure heavy sentences in these cases but rather impress on the minds of those who are careless or thoughtless that the property rights of land owners must be respected.

Economic conditions have changed a great deal in the last decade or two and uncontrolled forest fires can no longer be tolerated. The county meaning the tax payers of the county, can not stand the heavy losses which are caused by these fires and it is, therefore, necessary that all right minded and good citizens will do their best to prevent and control them. The district forester reports that most of the fires which have occurred in the county are in the neighborhood of Nease and Sellers, in the Greene-Brown community and around Flat Top. The rest of the county has been practically free from fire, only a few scattered ones occurring.

THE MAMMY MINSTRELS SCORED

Unusual Entertainment by Local Talent Greeted with Applause by Big
Audience

Such innovation as women minstrel, known as the "Mammy Minstrels," composed by local talent, was presented at St. Joseph's Academy Gym, Thursday night of last week and "went over big" in every sense.

Charles A. Gordon, interlocutor, trained and practiced with the cast for comparatively short while and how successful the presentation is best known by the many filling the vast capacity of the gym who sat during the evening with interest engaged uninterruptedly.

It was easily to see the affair was a success from the very beginning. The cast was evenly balanced, well trained and from the first curtain to the last there was not a dull moment.

It would be difficult to particularize so well and evenly presented was the entertainment. It seemed every one was fitted for her particular part. For instance, who could have sung "Under The Harlem Moon" with more personality and success?

Mr. Gordon had named each of his minstrel cast, and these stage names are given with those of the cast, preceding the proper name, as follows:

Endmen: Bing Crosby, Mrs. Lodwick; Eddie Cantor, Mrs. Stevenson; Andy Brown, Mrs. Sylvester; Al Jolson, Mrs. Osinach; Amos Jones, Mrs. Elliott; Big Bill Childs, Mrs. Dickson; Gracie Allen, Mrs. T. Quintini; Sadie Blake, Mrs. Murtagh; Alice Joy, Mrs. Carriere; Ruby Taylor, Mrs. G. Y. Blaize; Kate Smith, Mrs. Nix; Edna Wallace Hopper, Mrs. Gordon; Julia Sander, Mrs. Backman; Connie Hoswell, Mrs. Monti; Madam Queen, Mrs. Kammer; Ruth Etting, Mrs. Becker. Interlocutor, "Cag" Gordon, Pianist, Ann Leaf, Mrs. Saurier.

Pass Christian will have a public park, one that will reflect credit on the city. Horace White of New Orleans, owner of the Roseheart subdivision in East End, has given the city of Pass Christian a tract of land for park purposes. The land is located on Menge avenue, near the intersection of North street, about a half mile north of the beach.

The park is bisected by Bayou Johnson and is at the head of navigation on the bayou. The property, embracing five or six acres, is between 400 and 500 feet in width and 880 feet in length and takes in both the north and south sides of the bayou. The city already owns a strip of land, 95x330 feet, on the east side of Menge avenue which will be tied in with the park.

The City Council this week accepted the generous offer of Mr. White and instructed City Attorney George R. Smith to draw up the necessary legal papers. The park is to be named "White Park, in honor of the donor of the land."

Plans provide for vesting the ownership and control of the park in a park commission of three members, one to be appointed by the city Council, one by the Garden Club and one by the Rotary Club, and their successors in office. Among the first improvements to be made in the park will be the establishment of a public tennis court.

Citizens are being asked to donate shrubbery, trees, flowers, etc. in order to beautify the park. W. F. Adams, owner of the Adams nursery and Lorraine's Flower Shop at Pass Christian, has donated $100 worth of shrubbery for the park. W. H. Bouslog of Gulfport has agreed to donate a supply of tung oil trees. It is proposed to place in the park specimens of all trees and shrubbery that will grow in this climate and make it one of the show places of the Gulf Coast. With a paved avenue through the park, it is easily accessible to the public and will be an ideal place for public grounds and gatherings.

MARDI GRAS TO BE HOLIDAY IN BAY CITY DECLARED BY MAYOR

Issues Proclamation Declaring
Tuesday February 28,
Holiday in City Bounds

Realizing that Mardi Gras day is one of general festivities and is born of an old custom, originating in continental Europe and carried by the French to New Orleans until now it has spread to many points in Louisiana and Mississippi and became a day of general jollification and observance, Mayor G. Y. Blaize has issued an official proclamation declaring Tuesday, February 28, a holiday.

This proclamation appears elsewhere in the advertising columns of The Echo. Mayor Blaize's signature is attested to by Commissioners Bourgeois and Perkins.

It is asked that schools and all places of business be closed for the day and the people enter into the spirit of the day.

SUCCESSFUL CARD PARTY GIVEN BY S. J. A.—P. T. A.

The card party given in the gym last Tuesday night by the P. T. A. of St. Joseph's Academy was a success.

A large crowd than had been expected attended and extra tables and chairs had to be taken out. The proceeds of this party $34.90 were turned over to Mother Claire for the lessening of the gym debt. The ladies of the P. T. A. and particularly by those in charge of this party are deserving of much credit for their good work and the hearty thanks and fervent prayers of S. J. THEY CALL US CIVILIZED!

The Travelers Insurance Company represented in Bay St. Louis by the Merchants Insurance Agency, has published a booklet entitled, "They Call Us Civilized," which is an invaluable addition to the literature of safety, a copy of which is hereby acknowledged by The Echo received from the New York office.

It shows vividly, through tables and descriptions and illustrations, the horror and the magnitude of our annual toll of automobile fatalities and injuries.

It is true that last year automobile deaths decreased as compared with 1931—but there is little cause for pride in that. Gasoline consumption and automobile registrations likewise decreased. And—here is the main thing—in 1932 deaths and non-fatal injuries actually INCREASED per accident. In other words, there were fewer accidents, due largely to the fact that there was less driving; but each accident, when it occurred, was more likely to have serious consequences than in any other year.

The most difficult phase of the entire problem is public lethargy and indifference. As the booklet points out, the world shuddered at the sinking of the Titanic, costing 1517 lives, the San Francisco earthquake, costing 500 lives, and the wreck of the Shenandoah, costing 14 lives. Yet last year, the automobile, driven by the reckless, the incompetent and the unthinking, cost 29,000 lives, and in 15 years it has cost 325,000. Automobile deaths are a greater disaster than any of those which have been blazoned in headlines throughout the world—and they cause hardly a ripple.

The streets and highways of America are as dangerous as a battlefield. They are an ever-present menace to life, property, safety. A condition has been created that will require, in its solution, the active help of every thinking citizen.

NICK CARTER RETURNS.

NICK Carter has come back! The ace of all detectives, who was a household word when we were very young, has returned after the passage of many years, to thrill again those of us who remember when his hairbreadth escapes, his brilliant detective work, kept us awake until the wee small hours of the morning; when we simply could not stop reading until we made sure the hero would win out in the end. So strongly did he hold us in those days that if a window shade suddenly snapped up to the roller, we suppressed screams with difficulty and our hair stood on end.

When our elders forbade us to read the thrilling exploits of Nick Carter, they did not understand his fascination for us, else they would have read about him, too. And now he is back, and ready to thrill us again. He is equipped with all modern methods of crime detection. His wits have sharpened with the years. There is little doubt that he will again take his place in the hearts of those who love thrilling, clean, wholesome stories of crime-detection—in which the criminal always loses, though taxing Nick Carter's ingenuity to the utmost. Millions of readers will welcome the return of one of the most famous characters in detective fiction.

COAST-WIDE CARNIVAL.

BILOXI will be the scene of a Coast-wide Carnival celebration Mardi Gras—Tuesday of next week, under auspices of the Carnival Club. The fact that Pass Christian and Bay St. Louis have gone into the organization and will actively participate in the celebration is significant and should prove a recommendation justifying many people from this section journeying hither and enjoying the Mardi Gras festival.

At first the celebration was a purely local affair. Now it is a Coast-wide project since the organization has expanded from a local to general phase. Both Rotary Clubs of Pass Christian and Bay St. Louis have approved of the festivities at Biloxi next Tuesday to the extent that both cities of the west end of the Coast are this year officially participating.

The public unable to go to New Orleans for the Mardi Gras may journey eastward and attend the day of mirth and fun at Biloxi.

THE LUCKY SAVAGE.

YEARS ago a young boy from the wilds of Africa was carried on a steamer to Scotland, where he was educated and made unfit to return to his fellow-natives. In a recent address to American business men Lobagola said:

"And since happiness is a relative term, you can consider my own brother as happy; much happier than I am, because my brother has no gray hairs, no headaches, no problems."

"He doesn't know the things I know. He is not used to the wild beasts of the western world. He is used to a few leopards, a few snakes, a few lions, elephants, and things of that kind, but what is that compared with a few taxicabs and automobiles and drunken drivers and gunmen and everything?"

A heavy snowfall in New York City gave work to 30,000 persons. What this country evidently needs is more and bigger snowfalls.

There are no miracles in advertising, but if a merchant will give the subject some study and a little cash it will pay him profits, whether the merchant is in New York, Chicago or Bay St. Louis.

INCONSISTENCIES OF THE DEPRESSION.

A REPORT comes to The Echo first-hand, that Florida winter resorts are enjoying the usual gay season of visitors and patronage and that there is little or no evidence of an economic upheaval. Florida hotels have a waiting list and the season is at its zenith.

And why not? There are millions of people still independent, who are carrying on in life's happy labyrinth; that still have and are doing as usual. Possibly not so generously, but by no accident has the country gone awry as some over-precious would have us believe. Now for a peep on the other side.

THERE is certainly less business. Big business is crippled by the high wall of tariff. We are still buying goods in our own communities bearing the stamp "Made in Germany" and "Made in Japan," as inconsistent it may seem. While our own people in the laboring classes are suffering an unprecedented dearth of employment.

Another inconsistency noted is while people on weary feet are seeking employment, thousands in industrial centers are "walking out" on strike orders, according to reports of the daily press.

Our country has billions of dollars, it is the richest in the world. In the midst of plenty—cotton, wheat, rice and other staple crops—that command no price and allowed to decay, many are crying for bread and wearing apparel.

IT appears that the situation of today behooves all employed to unite, rather than to engage in strikes and hold out for high wages and salaries. Those who give employment are heroes of the situation. They should be sustained in every instance by the employed, uniting and exerting a force that will withstand the opposing influences undermining the foundation of things and deteriorating the fabric that holds and binds. Cooperation should be the watchword of today. Put into daily and consistent practice will serve well as a solvent. Those who employ are bearing the brunt. Why not the burden be lightened by those who still have work?

The world has no idea of the number of people who want the newspaper to print something to help business; but many of these worshippers of publicity have never heard about paid advertising.

CELEBRATING THE SHORTCUT.

JUDGING both by attendance and manifestation of spirit on every side Wednesday, the celebration and barbecue commemorating actual beginning of work on the long-sought-for direct highway between New Orleans and Mississippi Gulf Coast, more frequently known as the "Shortcut," was well a success and marked the beginning of a new epoch in this section of the State.

Benefits to accrue in time as a result of building the Shortcut cannot be overestimated. New Orleans and other Louisianians are fond of this section. They are fond of visiting and like to live here and with closer communication established many betterments will follow.

With the probability of lower taxes in the immediate future, more and better homes will come as if overnight and added population will make for more and substantial activities.

New Orleans' attendance at the celebration was a generous manifestation of interest and an indication of the spirit that will further bind the two states, lifting barriers as it were. We of this Gulf Coast section are equally fond of New Orleans. Our people trade and visit, and there is both a commercial and social intercourse ever going on.

The Shortcut will stimulate these amenities to a greater degree and intensify every desire for further and continued understanding and general favor.

Our friends from New Orleans came over in large numbers Wednesday. They well expressed by their presence the satisfaction and pleasure which is theirs by the fact actual work is in progress on the "Shortcut."

There is a rumor that the United States will recognize Soviet Russia. In view of the large number of motion picture plots furnished by the Russian revolution, some sort of acknowledgment of indebtedness seems in order.

L. & N. MAKES PROGRESSIVE MOVE.

FOLLOWING the establishment of a similar service for Biloxi, as announced in the news columns of The Echo last week, the Louisville & Nashville railroad company announces that similar services of delivering freight to the door of the consignee will be established in Bay St. Louis, beginning March 15. This will be free of charge, without additional charge or added cost to freight.

The only surprising thing about this announcement that it is so belated. There is no doubt the L. & N. is inaugurating this service to compete with the truck line, a service which delivers to the very domicile or place of business. Added cost of drayage to freight cuts into profits. It is but natural the truck lines are getting much of the business.

With this innovation, established by the railroads, and beginning March 15, it is but safe to say the L. & N. will regain lots of its lost business of this kind. The local railroad employs many in and through this section, pays for memberships in the various local civic and commercial organizations, to say nothing of the amount of money paid in taxes, and, surely, if anyone is entitled to the trade of the local public it is the railroads—the force that blazed the way, that established and maintained communication over a half century between the coast and outer world. Is it not fair that we patronize an old friend, one who has been found true and not wanting and one that has helped to build the community?

A man who claimed to have found buried treasure valued at thirty thousand dollars retracted his yarn when he discovered that it laid him open to about four thousand dollars income tax. Unless the activities of the Federal Government are checked somehow, even the fish story will have to go.

WITH THE STATE PRESS.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT.

(Ocean Springs Times)

IF you for any reason suddenly found your community without a newspaper there would be a big mass meeting sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce or Rotary Club, methods would be adopted to induce somebody to start a paper, probably a bonus would be offered and advertising contracts promised. Every community wants a newspaper of its own, a paper which is the only paper published in the world that cares a darn for that particular community.

This means that a newspaper is considered an asset. It means that a community without a newspaper is not much of a community. Did you ever stop to think that in order to be of greatest value to its community a newspaper must be prosperous; that it must earn by legitimate support from subscribers and advertisers a sufficient amount to be able to put out a paper worth while? That the better supported your home paper is the more value it is to the community and the more able it is to do real things?

The better a community supports its newspaper, the better able is that paper to support the community.

"A VISION OF TAXATION."

The following view was sent to the Chicago Daily News by G. A. Haywood:

Each day you may see me out working on the farm.
I have a little forty, a chicken coop and barn.
I love to work upon the farm and keep it neat and clean,
But when I'm in my bed at night, I have such awful dreams.

I see taxes on the ceiling, I see taxes on the wall,
I see taxes in the kitchen, I see taxes in the hall.

I see taxes in the dining room I see taxes on my plate,
I believe I can taste taxes in everything I eat.

I believe in paying taxes, I believe in being sane,
I believe these unjust taxes are taxation of the brain.

I see taxes on my children, I see taxes on my wife,
I see taxes on my income, I see taxes on my life.

The next bum rap that we predict with no other can compare;
It's a meter on our windpipe, then tax us for the air.

GEORGE WASHINGTON.

Was ever man gifted so rare,
Bright clad in classic mold;
Did Leader greater burdens share,
Principles higher hold?

Was ever General more tried,
In battle fierce and grim;
Has a people's faith e'er more relied
In Soldier such as him?

Can History point down the age,
To any nobler deeds;
What greater Ideal on life's page,
Where Love with Duty feeds?

'Tis long since he has passed away,
Leaving greatness behind;
Beloved and honored to this day,
Enshrined in heart and mind.

WHEN THE DEPRESSION IS OVER

Think of the fun we'll have,
When this depression goes away;
Think of the things we'll do,
Every hour, every minute of the day;
Think of the things we'll see
Away off in some nice place;
Think of the new things we'll wear,
All crisscross with ribbon and lace;
Think of the car we'll buy,
With never a thought of the price;
Think of the good things we'll eat,
No more red-beans and rice;
Think of the taxes we'll pay,
With never a sigh or a groan;
Think of the dear little home,
That we, now, are not sorry to own;
No more unemployment;
No one hungry or cold;
When this old thing called depression
Is a thing of the past and old.

WOMAN LOST 20 POUNDS IN 4 WEEKS

Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I'm only 28 years old and weighed 170 lbs., until taking one box of your Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and further more I've never had a hungry moment."

Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as tens of thousands of men and women know. For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at any drug store—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle and it after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back.

One of two Calotabs at bedtime with a glass of sweet milk or water. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you wish—no danger. Calotabs are sold in 10¢ and 30¢ packages at drug stores.

SAUNTERINGS. From Where The West Begins.

By JOHN T. MEYERS
(of the Sea Coast Echo)

THE fanatical plans of a would-be assassin of President-elect, F. D. Roosevelt were thwarted by a miraculous decree of fate in Miami on last Wednesday night.

From the midst of a large crowd gathered to pay homage to the man who will soon enter the White House as president of the United States, Guiseppe Zangara, citizen through courtesy of naturalization, fired a pistol with deadly intent that wounded five persons because he allegedly possessed a bitter hatred for all presidents, rulers, governments, and officials.

Pandemonium prevailed after the flashing shots rang out. The frantic crowd could not realize what had happened, as officers sprang to Zangara. When it was evident that Mayor Anton Cermak, of Chicago, and four others, including two women, had been wounded, the prisoner had to be shielded from threats of violence at the hands of the maddened gathering.

Almost instantly word was flashed over the nation. News wires electrified rooms with a flash. "Attempted assassination of President-elect Roosevelt." This was followed by bulletins giving as much detail as could be gathered. Extra editions were soon on the streets, and a startled and thankful country rejoiced in the news that Roosevelt's life had been spared. Prayers for the speedy recovery of Mayor Cermak, and the four other victims were voiced on every tongue. As this is written the more seriously wounded are reported to have good chances for recovery.

The general consensus in San Antonio regarding the attempted assassination in Miami tended to reason that Chicago's organized gangland was in some way implicated in the affair, due to Mayor Cermak's vigilante program to clean out these undesirable before the opening dates of the World's Fair.

Many believed Mayor Cermak, rather than Roosevelt, was the intended target of the assassin's pistol. However, the Department of Justice will exert every effort to uncover the motive and bring to justice any and all who might be involved in this decidedly un-American act.

A group of Mexican boys between the ages of 6 and 10 years of age gathered before the candy case in a typical Botica (drug store) on the west side of San Antonio. Noisily, they jabbered among themselves in their native language. Patiently, the druggist waited while each ragamuffin was trying to persuade the money holder to purchase the candy of his particular liking. Finally, some agreement was reached.

A big red 'jamboree' was handed over to the leader in exchange for a penny. Out to the sidewalk flocked this band of street Arabs in scrambling disorder. It seemed for a moment they would mob the holder of the single, round, ball of candy. But again a compromise was reached. Into the leader's mouth went the candy. His big, brown eyes gleamed with gluttonous satisfaction, as his companions looked on with envious desires.

They had formed a little circle now, and the candy was passing from mouth to mouth. If Jumpy Jose or sad-eyed Juan kept the tempting 'dulce' too long there was more jabbering—this time in a threatening tone. All eyes were focused on the lad who was sucking the candy at the moment. As we watched the candy ball make its second round of the circle, the temptation got the better of one pathetic little fellow—he bit a piece out of the diminishing sugared sphere! "No, No, hombre," they chimed out in chorus, as the next in line delivered a hefty punch as punishment for this unsportsman-like act. The druggist informed that these little street sales usually end up in a grand free-for-all. But we are still trying to figure how each kid rated an interest in the penny that bought the piece of candy. Let's call in the Technocrats.

Gisting through Sarah Bernhardt's "Philosophy of Love" we found the following: "Where ever total prohibition prevails, social life will be killed, digestion ruined and the very word 'Liberty' become a thing despised and spat upon."

With due respects to 'Devine Sarah,' we might say: Total prohibition does not prevail in these United States. But a film-flam, monkey-doodle 18th amendment, that makes two-faced charlatans out

How Doctors Treat Colds and Coughs

To break up a cold overnight and relieve the congestion that makes you cough, thousands of physicians are now recommending Calotabs, the nameless, colorless compound tablets that give you the effects of calomel and salts without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bedtime with a glass of sweet milk or water. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you wish—no danger. Calotabs are sold in 10¢ and 30¢ packages at drug stores.

of our men in high public office encourages corrupt government administration and gives a means of support and power to the lowest type of criminals in our larger cities, DOES prevail today.

Social life has not been killed under the tyrannous rule of prohibition. Generally speaking, it has been turned into a bacchanalian orgy in which the moral welfare of the young people has been offered as a sacrifice to the burning glory of prohibition.

And as for ruined digestion—most of the free-flowing bootleg liquor dispensed in every city, town and hamlet of these United States would ruin even a cat from digestion.

"Personal Liberty" is a thing that the American public regard as sacred. . . above encroachment of even the nonsensical 18th amendment. However, one thing in the United States, today, has "become" a thing despised and spat upon!"

And that thing is "Law and Order." Bootleggers, gangsters, and racketeers devoutly worship before the false altar of the 18th amendment, glorified in the protection and rewards it offers. . . But the day of reckoning is at hand. The mighty voice of the American people has spoken.

Ask your doctor friends about this angle of Mr. Volstead's glorious farce.

Bay High News

The girls and boys of Bay High entertained, Friday night, with a lovely dance at Uncle Charlie's Nite Club. Over a hundred and fifty students attended, and danced to the music of Saucier's "Night Hawks." The dance lasted from eight until twelve-thirty o'clock.

A floor show was presented with each class entering members to compete for first and second places. An act by Doris Osborn and James Arnold, the freshmen entrants, took first prize; and Phillis Kidd, Leroy Nelson, Francis Nelson, Tyrell Maniez, and Coy Ladner, won the next prize, with a presentation of "The Old Fashioned Girl." Punch and cakes were served as refreshments.

The credit for the success of the dance goes to Mr. Breath, who loaned the Club; to the floor committee; and to Earl Ramond, the promoter.

"DANGEROUSLY YOURS" COMING TO A. & G. THEATRE SUN.-MON.

Warner Baxter Supported By Miriam Jordan and Herbert Mundin.

Warner Baxter, handsome, debonair, socially-prominent jewel thief, and Miriam Jordan, one of the newest of screen stars, have the leading roles in the Fox Film production, "Dangerously Yours," coming on Sunday and Monday to the A. & G. Theatre.

Set in the fashionable salons of metropolitan society, aboard a luxurious yacht and at a number of sparkling resorts, this picture portrays the romance between a finished jewel thief and the charming operative of an insurance company. The plot revolves around the plans of a woman to arrest a man and ends in an unexpected climax involving infatuation and love.

There are said to be a number of hilarious sequences to which Herbert Mundin, prominent comedian, contributes his rare comic abilities. In support of Baxter, Miss Jordan and Mundin there is a cast of notable proportions that includes such well-known players as Florence Eldridge, wife of Fredric March; Florence Roberts, Nella Walker, Arthur Hoyt, Tyrrell Davis, Will Davidson and Mischa Auer.

WITH THE MOVIES AND FILM FOLKS

(For the Sea Coast Echo)

Columbia has a film describing the life of Benito Mussolini, with explanatory dialogue by Lowell Thomas. Ann Harding may play the title role in "Ann Vickers" Sinclair Lewis' is novel, and is well pleased. The blonde star believes that she has been miscast in the past and that RKO-Radio has refused to lend her to other companies for worthwhile pictures.

Edward G. Robinson and Mary Astor are working on "The Little Giant." Ten years ago, they were together in "The Bright Shawl." Margaret McConnell whose picture has appeared in cigarette advertisements, is being instructed in acting and will be tried out by MGM.

Norma Shearer's next film will be "Andros Language" and not "La Tendre." Paramount, in spite of receiverships and troubles, is working on eleven films at the present time.

Warner studios are trying to decide who will be Mme. Pompadour in George Arliss' production, "Voltaire." Ruth Chatterton, Barbara Stanwyck and Bebe Daniels are being considered.

Claudette Colbert is back at work in "I Cover the Water Front," with Ben Lyons having the masculine lead.

Jack Holt has signed a new contract with Columbia and will be with that company for some time. He is now working on "Fever," a story of the Far East and will soon begin "Tampico," based on the novel by Joseph Hergesheimer.

Buster Keaton is reported to have cancelled his contract with MGM because of inferior billing given on "What! No Beer?" in which Jimmy Durante was also featured.

Ruth Chatterton and George Brent will be together in "Lilly Turner," which had to be postponed to enable the couple to recover from the exposure and snow blindness suffered when they were marooned in a mountain cabin in California.

Greta Nissen will have the feminine lead in "Murder of the Circus Queen," produced by Columbia.

Wheeler and Woolsey recently refused to accept a new story written for them and are on a tour while another is being completed.

Joan Crawford is out of "Soviet" and Jean Harlow will probably be given the lead, thus delaying her own "Bomb Shell."

Paramount is producing "The Story of Temple Drake" nee "Sagittary" which was held up for some time by censorship difficulties. The cast includes George Raft and Miriam Hopkins.

Of the many afternoon card parties this season—and there have been many—that of Mrs. Kenneth W. Mrs. George E. Pitcher one of the more delightful hostesses and whose beautiful affairs always carry a charm of fascination, gave another delightful afternoon bridge party Tuesday afternoon at Mrs. Betty Butler's spacious and inviting place on South Beach Boulevard, carrying out the George Washington motif decoration, with the tri-colors in tasty evidence on every side. With such decorations there was an added aspect of cheerfulness and pleasure.

Mrs. Pitcher entertained at ten tables and with such graciousness and facility that again marked her as one of the many hostesses for which our city and the Bay-Waveland district enjoy an enviable distinction.

The trophies were objects of beauty and the selection reflected the well known taste of Mrs. Pitcher. Capturing these prizes were: Mrs. Walter J. Gex, Jr., Miss Vickie Gex, Mrs. E. J. Leonard, Mrs. Leo E. Kenney, Mrs. R. H. Bryson, Mrs. Ralph Rugan, Mrs. Edward C. Carrere, Mrs. Robert L. Genin, Mrs. Owen Crawford, Miss Barker, Mrs. J. J. Grevenberg.

MRS. AUGUST RAUXET GIVES GEORGE WASHINGTON BRIDGE PARTY.

Mrs. August Rauxet, of Bay St. Louis, entertained at a beautiful George Washington bridge party at "The Answer" Wednesday afternoon, February 22. For the occasion the many lights of the large dining room, where the guests were entertained, were shaded with transparent colors of red, white and blue, not only fitting but in pleasing contrast, and supplying a setting most appropriate for a party on the natal anniversary of the "Father of his Country."

Shortly after 4 o'clock a delectable party menu was served and later in the afternoon that, like the winged swallow, had flown all too quickly, and a flood of delightful comment came as a closing climax of the afternoon's entertainment.

Mrs. Rauxet had many and beautiful prizes well worth striving for and which were in the final count awarded as follows:

Mrs. Sidney W. Prague, a make-up box; Mrs. Ralph Rugan, coffee table; Mrs. Leo E. Kenney, a linen bridge set beautifully embroidered by Mrs. L. M. Gex, Sr., Mrs. Clemence Jaubert Chadwick, satin handkerchief bag; Mrs. N. Dick (cut) white bag; Miss Beatrice Smith (consolation) fancy match box; Mrs. Edmund F. Fahey, for holding four honors the greater number of times, set of sachet bags.

Mrs. W. A. Staehle has invitations out for an afternoon bridge on Thursday of this week.

Memory vs. Contiguity.

"Oh, George," she gurgled as she quivered closer, "I wonder how any one could say that absence makes the heart grow fonder?" "I guess," replied George, "that must mean the absence of a third party."—Stray Stories.

BEAUTY—YOUR BIRTHRIGHT

(For the Sea Coast Echo)

By BETTE

FACIALS CONTINUED

FOR best results, have everything in readiness before you start your facial.

First cleanse your face according to directions in my article on cleansing the face with cream. After you have used the cleansing lotion, to steam the face and open the pores, fold one towel across the center, wet it thoroughly in hot water, squeeze almost dry and when cool, enough not to burn, place the center of the fold directly under the nose bringing the right end of the fold up over the left eye, to the left end over the right eye. By crossing the towel ends in this way, the face is completely covered but there is still a small opening at the nostrils to breathe through. When this towel cools, remove and use the other towel in the same manner. While the skin is warm, pluck the eyebrows and remove blackheads.

Apply tissue cream, starting at the chin and working in an upward rotary movement over entire face. After the cream has been rubbed into the skin, remove surplus cream with the tissues, apply one hot towel then one cold towel. Sponge the face with cleansing lotion, then rub the face with ice which has been placed in a fold of the towel, to protect the skin. Finish by sponging the face with witchhazel and make up using the absorbent cotton to apply your powder and rouge.

THE OLD FASHIONED GIRL.

The old fashioned girl we once loved well, Where is she, in her powder, frill and lace; Where is the class in calico, a belle, Without lipstick or rouge upon her face?

Where is the maiden, modest as of yore, With downcast eye and hair in pretty curl; We see but bobbed heads for the rich and poor, And knee length skirts for mother, wife or girl.

Where is the girl who built ideals for men, And loved to stay at home by fire-side; Where is the waltz from seven until ten, Where maidens in its charm did often glide?

But now they madly rush in autos far, Joyriding from midnight to rise of sun; They love but pleasure and not Life's bright star, Jaded and old before youth has begun.

Maybe the simple dress will come again, And once more make woman's sweet crown of hair; Maybe experience for them will gain, High thoughts and dreams of future world more fair.

COMMENT ON SPORTS

By SHERIDAN

A startling novelty in football is the proposal to give the offensive eleven five downs in place of the usual four when inside its own or the opposition's twenty-yard line. The radical change is suggested by the Rules Committee of the Eastern Association of football officials, and will probably be given close attention by the National Football Rules Committee.

It is argued that this will adjust the balance between offense and defense because, as every student of the goal line approached, the defense automatically stiffens, and it is virtually impossible for an offensive team to gain by rushing. In converse fashion, the other end of the field makes gaining difficult since the defensive team close to its own goal usually kicks to get out of danger because of the practical impossibility of gaining the required distance through running plays where the teams are anywhere like evenly matched.

New suggestions continue to come forward for the improvement of the game, at least in the opinion of the advocates. Pop Warner would abolish the point after touchdown in favor of granting a point for each first down. Andy Kerr wants a twelfth man on the gridiron to call all plays but take no part in the game. Tuss McLaughry would have the second half continue play where it left off at the termination of the first half.

The forward pass is the subject of considerable disagreement. Some coaches believe that there is too much passing and others that there is too little. The first group would triple the penalty for the second incomplete aerial and the second group would eliminate the present rule that requires the passer to be five yards behind the line of scrimmage in order to open up the game a little more. There is certain to be much debate on the present rule that makes the ball dead the instant the carrier's body, excepting his hands and feet touch the ground.

Party going to Asheville, N. C. within next few days, could accommodate one or two passengers, to any point on route. For information, Phone 128.

THE ECHO'S COOKING CLASS

The foundation for perfect health is laid by eating plenty of fresh fruits. They furnish necessary and protective food elements in a most appetizing way. Always serve fresh fruits in the simplest possible manner.

Lemon Cocktail Sauce.

1/2 cup sugar
1 cup water
2 tablespoons any red jelly
Boil 5 minutes, cool and add 1-4 cup lemon juice. Pour over 2 cups of any sliced fruit mixture, serve chilled in cocktail glasses.

Orange and Grapefruit Salad

After peeling the orange and grapefruit remove the membrane from sections. Arrange slices of oranges and grapefruit on the plates with the narrow edges down so that they form a ball. To add a touch of color mark the divisions of the sections with strips of pimento. Parsley and lettuce make a pretty garnish for this salad. Serve with fruit juice dressing.

Fruit Juice Dressing

Mix 3-4 cup of salad oil with 2 tablespoons of lemon juice, 2 tablespoons orange juice, 1/2 teaspoon paprika. Beat until thoroughly mixed. Cut up a few maraschino cherries and add to the dressing.

Fresh Fruit Cup

1/2 cup pineapple
3 bananas
1 cup strawberries
3 oranges
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Sugar to taste
Peel and dice the pineapple, bananas and oranges. Wash and peel the strawberries. Mix all together with lemon juice and sugar. Serve Cold.

Ambrosia Modern

Peel 2 large oranges and slice as thinly as possible. Arrange slices on serving plate and sprinkle lightly with powdered sugar, then with shredded coconut. Arrange a layer of crushed pineapple on it and on it a second layer of orange, sugar, coconut and pineapple, and then a third layer of orange. Cover this thickly with coconut and strawberries sliced. Place a whole strawberry in the very center. Border with fresh green mint leaves and serve cold.

Orange Torte

8 eggs
1 cup sugar
2 orange rinds and juice
1/2 lb. grated almonds
2 tablespoons bread crumbs
Beat the sugar with the yolks of eggs until light. Add the almonds, crumbs, juice and rind of oranges. Fold in the beaten whites. Bake in 2 layers in an oven 350 degrees. When cold spread jelly between the layers. Spread orange butter frosting on top of the torte and decorate with candied cherries and orange sections. Serve with the following:

Frosting

2 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon milk, 1 cup confectioners sugar, 1 tablespoon orange juice and the grated rind of an orange.

A LITTLE SONG

There's a little song keeps singing in the high halls of my heart—
Wistful little words keep winging, words, like birds, that spring and start.

There's a little dream keeps dancing Where my truant fancies wing—
There's a thrill of sweet romancing, You the queen and I the king.

There's a little cottage gleaming, Where the rambling roses are,
There's a bit of sky keeps beaming, Like the shining of a star.

There's a lullaby keeps crooning, Like a mother with her child,
There's a shmye that keeps on moon-ing, With a music, weird and wild.

There's a little echo waking Every time I hear your name,
There's a bleeding heart that's breaking, Stricken with a sense of shame.

There's a little lie keeps stinging, Like a slimy serpent's tongue,
There's a remembrance that keeps bringing Ghosts of years when we were young.

There's a little grave keeps waiting Where the grass is ever green,
There's a remorse that keeps relating Morbid episodes and mean.

There's a little life keeps yearning For the fruits of love that fail,
There's a lesson worth the learning In this tragic little tale.
